Dear Sir.

Are there coins of any value? And would it be safe to buy high prices, if they were? And are there many of any in your Museum.

Very Truly Yrs

Mrs. Franklin Bartlett,

Dear Madam:-

Your letter of August 1st arrived while I was away, hence the delay in replying.

I should say that twenty dollars each for five dollar Mormon Coin of 1850 and 1860, would be a reasonable price, provided of course the coins were in good condition.

The Mormon five dollar piece of 1860 is in the Society's collection, but not the five dollar piece of 1850.

Very truly yours,

Director.

Dear Madam:-

Will you kindly inform me if the above address is to be used for sending you notices and publications in future, or for this occassion only, and greatly oblige,

Yours very truly,

Secretary.
